

Frequently Asked Questions

How can White Glove Consulting assist my loved one to get approved for Medicaid when he/she has a substantial amount of money in assets and resources?

Whether it's stocks, bonds, CD's, IRA's, life insurance policies, or bank accounts, here at White Glove Consulting we have the experience and all the knowledge to advise you on how you can be eligible for Medicaid while protecting all of your assets and resources.

Can my loved one still be eligible if they own a home?

YES.... If the home's equity value is below $786,000 they can remain living in it and still qualify for Medicaid. If the equity value of the house is worth more than $786,000, White Glove Consulting can advise you how to protect the house and be eligible for Medicaid.

Will my loved ones income prevent them from getting approved for Medicaid?

Even if their income exceeds the Medicaid allowable, there are a couple of programs that White Glove Consulting can enroll them in, which will entitle them to receive Medicaid benefits.

Is it true that Medicaid looks back at past transfers/transactions when applying?

This is only true for institutional (nursing home) Medicaid. When applying for community Medicaid, there is no look back. Medicaid only asks to see current information and documentation.

How long will it take for the Medicaid application to get approved?

It takes 30-45 days for a community Medicaid application to get approved, however, if your loved one is in need of home care, it is possible to begin receiving home care services before the application gets approved based on our relationships with the agencies.
